授業の概要	This course will introduce students to creative writing in English. Through writing in various genres, students will improve their command of English vocabulary and expression. Students will also examine the connection between visual image and creative writing, as in manga. As a final project, students will produce a small class magazine of their creative writing. Throughout the course, students will be invited to think of their English writing as work (作品) rather than homework (課題). The course encourages students to take ownership of their English and use it as a means of understanding and changing the world, both locally and globally.
